

FULTON THEATRE

Dear Valued Guests of the Fulton Theatre:

Since the emergence of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Fulton Theatre has been committed to the health and safety of our patrons, guests, artists and staff. With wellbeing as a top priority, the Fulton is announcing a change to face covering policy.

The masking requirement has been extended through the run of Rodgers & Hammerstein's Cinderella. The Fulton Theatre requires that face masks be worn by all audience members while attending a performance in any of our series. Masks are required except when eating or drinking in our lobbies and theatres. We will now be allowing food and drink into the theatre. Securely fitting masks must cover the nose and mouth, and have no valves; scarves and neck gaiters are not acceptable.

The leadership of the Fulton Theatre will continue to monitor guidance issued by the CDC and state and local health officials, and will update COVID protocols as circumstances allow.

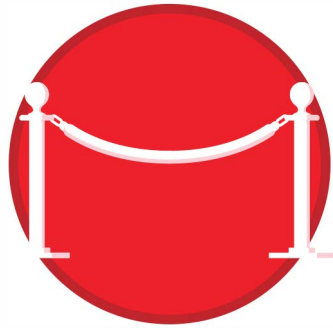

The entire list of health and safety measures that have been implemented at the Fulton Theatre may be found at our COVID-19 Safety Protocols web page.

Thank you for your understanding, and we look forward to welcoming you to the Fulton Theatre.

Respectfully,
The Fulton Theatre

MASKS REQUIRED

MAINTAIN DISTANCE WHEN POSSIBLE

SANITATION STATIONS AVAILABLE

Keeping Your Safety Top of Mind, We Have Taken the Additional Precautions:

- We continue to encourage keeping your distance when possible
- Cinderella will be inviting audiences at full capacity
- The Fulton Theatre installed a new HVAC system, which exchanges the room air more times than an airplane
- We also installed an ionization filtration system to our HVAC system
- The entire auditorium is disinfected between each performance
- All Fulton staff, volunteers, and artists are required to be vaccinated
- Sanitation stations are available for all patrons and staff
